

There was a robot girl at Jean Monnet ...

Reporter: - Hello ! I'm a reporter from « teens talk radio's"
Can I ask you some questions?

Student: - Yes of course.

R: - Ok, let's begin. What do you know about gossiping? What is gossiping for you?

S: -I think gossiping, it's when you make rumours about someone, it can become bullying. People who gossip tell lies.

R: - Do you gossip?

S: - To my mind, I have never gossiped because I think it's bad, and it can hurt people.

R: - Have you ever been a witness of gossiping?

S: - Two years ago, a girl was a victim of bullying. Everybody talked about her.

R: - What did they say?

S: - They thought she was a robot.

R: - But why did they think that?

S: - She was more intelligent than the others, she never changed her hairstyle. She always wore grey clothes and she talked like a robot.

R: - Did she have friends?

S: - No, she was lonely. Many times, I tried to talk to her but she left each time: she was such a shy girl.

R: - Who started the rumour?

S: - Rebecca, a stupid girl... and the most popular girl at school. She started the rumour. She posted on Instagram a robot's picture with the victim's face. There were 432 views!

R: - Waow! That's a lot of views! Then, how did the rumour spread?

S: - Then, the rumour spread on all the social networks: Facebook, Snapchat, Tiktok, Instagram...

R: - Any bystanders? What was their reaction?

S: - Some bystanders related the rumour and laughed at "the bot girl". Others didn't say anything, or sometimes smiled at the victim, in order to be kind to her.

R: - How did the girl feel?

S: - She didn't show her emotions, but sometimes, we could hear someone crying in the school's toilets, and I think it was her...

R: - Did you see her after that?

S: - After the summer holidays, she wasn't at school. I don't know what she became.

R: - Thank you for your participation to "Teens Talk Radio"!
